Production/processing

The know-hows of the local farmers in tending and custom of using natural feed and free ranging on natural streams are also factors contributing to the peculiar characteristics of Cổ Lũng – Bá Thước mallards.

Geographical area

Communes of Ban Công, Thành Lâm, Thành Sơn, Cổ Lũng, Lũng Niêm and Lũng Cao of Bá Thước district, Thanh Hóa province.

Link between product and territory

The climate of the area is cool all year round, temperature variance between day and night is 8 – 12°C, which is a favourable condition, making the meat firm and aromatic. The geographical area has many streams which have clean water and many types of snails, small fishes, and beneficial microorganisms. The high Ca²⁺ content in the water influences the leanness, firmness, and taste of Cổ Lũng – Bá Thước mallard.
